

Office Tool – Parent Evening Bookings

As part of your Starz+ subscription you also have access to a number of free office tools.

Parent Evening Booking Tool

Fed up with bits of paper floating around the office when parental consultation time comes around? If so why not consider using the free parents evening tool which comes as part of your Starz+ subscription? Allow parents to view available time slots and securely book their own appointments via the built-in tool.

This tool allows you to set-up scheduled events with control over the length of each session and time between.

Using an admin account, it is possible to book for parents who do not have Internet access.

Teachers can set breaks and once your parents begin booking you can monitor progress and send out reminders.

If you are interested in exploring this tool please contact the Starz+ team who will take you through the set-up process, and provide parent logins.
